Market position

BLUEMARQ Group, formerly known as Đat Xanh Group, is one of the well-known real estate developers in Vietnam with strong recognition in the apartment and urban housing segment. The company also owns a large brokerage and distribution network, giving it a competitive advantage in project sales and customer reach. Moreover, DXG is recognized for its wide project portfolio, particularly in Ho Chi Minh City and key southern provinces.

Financial performance

From 2020 to 2025, the company's business performance experienced considerable volatility, reflecting the strong impact of market and economic conditions on its operations. Revenue growth fluctuated sharply, falling by 50.28% in 2020 before rebounding dramatically by 249.03% in 2021, then declining again during 2022–2023, recovering moderately in 2024 with a growth rate of 28.74%, and decreasing by 12.59% in 2025. The company's net profit after tax also changed significantly throughout the period, shifting from a loss of 174,070 VND in 2020 to a profit of more than 1.59 million VND in 2021, before decreasing and gradually improving to nearly 595,000 VND in 2025. Meanwhile, ROEA and ROAA showed a positive recovery after the negative results in 2020, indicating an improvement in the company's ability to utilize equity and assets, although profitability ratios remained relatively modest overall. EPS demonstrated a similar pattern, increasing sharply from negative 956 VND in 2020 to 2,139 VND in 2021, then declining and stabilizing at 392 VND by 2025. Overall, the company has shown signs of gradual recovery, but its operational performance and profitability still face challenges in maintaining long-term stability.

Medium and long-term prospectus

Recovery of Core Real Estate Projects

BLUEMARQ Group is expected to benefit from the gradual stabilization of Vietnam's property market and easing legal bottlenecks, supporting project handovers and earnings recovery in the medium term.

Dual-engine Business Model

The company's combination of real estate development and brokerage services provides diversified revenue streams and strengthens its ability to capture market demand during recovery cycles.

Long-term Growth Potential

DXG's sizable land bank, expanding suburban housing demand, and ongoing digital transformation in its brokerage network may support sustainable long-term growth and improve operational efficiency in the coming years.

TIME HORIZON

SHORT TO MEDIUM TO LONG -TERM INVESTMENT HORIZON

Because real estate development projects require time for legal completion, construction, and handovers before contributing fully to earnings growth.

3 TO 5 YEARS

RISK TOLERANCE

BLUEMARQ Group currently maintains a more balanced and cautious risk profile following recent challenges in Vietnam's real estate market. While the company previously pursued aggressive expansion through rapid land bank growth, it is now focusing more on liquidity management, capital structure optimization, and inventory control. DXG also prioritizes projects with clearer legal status before committing large amounts of capital, helping reduce regulatory and financial risks. This more conservative strategy supports the company's financial stability and strengthens its relationship with major financial institutions.

Business model

The company operates through an integrated real estate ecosystem that combines property development, brokerage services, and project distribution. Revenue mainly comes from apartment sales, urban development projects, and brokerage commissions.
