DGW is one of the leading companies in the trading and distribution of information technology devices, components, and software in Vietnam.

The company is ranked among the Top 9 retail enterprises contributing the most to the state budget. DGW has achieved an average annual revenue growth rate of approximately 35%.

Delivering sustainable surplus value to investors has always been one of the company's top strategic priorities.

Financial performance

During the 2020–2025 period, Petrolimex recorded fluctuating but generally stable financial performance, reflecting changes in global oil prices and domestic fuel demand. Revenue growth declined sharply in 2020 due to the pandemic impact before recovering strongly in 2021–2022 alongside the rebound in energy consumption and fuel prices. Growth then stabilized during 2023–2025, showing a more balanced business environment.

Earnings After Tax increased from VND 1,253 billion in 2020 to above VND 3,000 billion during 2023–2025, indicating improved profitability and operational recovery. ROEA and ROAA also recovered significantly compared to 2020 levels, reflecting more efficient use of equity and assets. Meanwhile, EPS remained relatively stable above VND 2,000/share during 2023–2025, demonstrating the company's ability to maintain consistent shareholder returns despite fluctuations in the energy market.

TIME HORIZON

SUITABLE FOR MEDIUM TO LONG-TERM INVESTMENT

During this period, investors may benefit from the increasing demand for fuel and energy consumption in Vietnam, together with PLX's leading position and extensive distribution network.

(1 to 5 years)

In addition, a longer investment horizon helps reduce the impact of short-term fluctuations in global oil prices and the energy market.

RISK TOLERANCE

MEDIUM TO LOW RISK LEVEL

Due to its leading position in Vietnam's petroleum distribution industry, extensive distribution network, and strong brand recognition in the market. The company is capable of maintaining relatively stable cash flows from its core business operations and domestic fuel demand. However, PLX is still affected by fluctuations in global oil prices, the Government's fuel price management policies, competitive pressure within the industry, and exchange rate volatility, all of which may impact profit margins and business performance in the short term.

Medium and long-term prospectus

POSITIVE OUTLOOK FOR MEDIUM TO LONG-TERM

• Expansion of distribution systems and infrastructure

Continued investment in expanding fuel station networks, storage facilities, and logistics systems helps PLX maintain stable revenue sources and create long-term growth momentum.

• Stable growth in fuel and energy demand

The ongoing industrialization, urbanization, and increasing demand for transportation and manufacturing activities in Vietnam provide favorable conditions for PLX's business operations, thereby supporting revenue and profit growth.

• Long-term development strategy and brand advantages

PLX focuses on improving operational efficiency and expanding related businesses such as petrochemicals and aviation fuel. In addition, the company possesses a strong brand and an extensive distribution network, enabling it to maintain competitive advantages in Vietnam's energy market.
